Marco Angelini
Life and suspension:
the sacred space

Opening on July 8th, 6 p.m., this exhibition of Italian modern art focuses on the work of Rome-born Marco Angelini. Firmly established in Poland, Angelini is known to experiment with recycled materials, and utilize plastic and metal. Says one critic: "in his new project Angelini draws attention to the spiritual dimension: its intention is to enter into the sacred space by using the items appropriated by religion through the power of transfiguration." For more on the artist and his mission, check: www.marcoangelini.it
